

Less  screen time

Too much sitting
and not enough
activity can harm children's health and mood.

More play time

Active play, especially outdoors, improves wellbeing and physical health.